

Excess Profits Bill Receives Hasty Approval

Levy Of 75 Percent Dated July 1

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress drove today for a hurry-up agreement on terms of an excess profits tax to skim billions from corporation earnings.

The Senate gave the measure hasty approval yesterday, after a sketch-the-highlights report from its tax-writing finance committee on what the bill would do.

Designed to tax away an additional $3,200,000,000 of this year's corporation profits, and far bigger sums as defense spending mounts, the bill differs radically from the form in which the House had passed it earlier.

Surtax Boosted

Today a committee of Senate and House members took over, seeking a compromise.

As passed by the Senate the measure would boost the corporation surtax from 20 per cent to 22 per cent, to go along with the excess profits levy. The House had proposed no surtax change, but its version of the excess profits levy was far less mild.

Both House and Senate already are agreed, however, on a 75 per cent tax on assumed "excess profits", defined as earnings that exceed 85 per cent of the average for the three best years from 1946 through 1949. And both agree the tax should be retroactive to last July 1.

Small Firms Exempt

The Senate bill declares that the combined corporation income tax, surtax and excess profits levy may not take more than 60 per cent of any firm's net income. The House had proposed a 67 per cent ceiling. Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) sought unsuccessfully to boost that figure to 70 per cent.

The Senate measure provides alternative methods for firms to compute the excess profits tax. The main option allows them to claim exemption credits equal to 8 to 12 per cent of their assets.

Firms earning less than $25,000 a year would be exempt from both tax boosts.

Peiping Ignores Offer Of Truce

Cease-Fire In Korea Would Be Big Help

LAKE SUCCESS — (AP) — The United Nations has told the Chinese Communists chances for talks on a general Far Eastern settlement—desired by the Reds—would be improved if Peiping heeded U. N. calls for a cease fire in Korea.

In a second direct appeal to the Communist government, the three-man U. N. cease fire committee said a pending Asian-Arab proposal for such negotiations would receive greater U. N. consideration if the Korean fighting was halted.

The second message, sent to Peiping Tuesday night, gave no promise that the Far Eastern talks would follow a cease fire. The United States strongly opposes linking the Korean fighting with such other Asian problems as Red China's demands for Formosa and for a seat in the United Nations.

Peiping as yet has made no reply to either the committee's first appeal for more cease fire talks or to the second note. The Chinese Communist delegate to the U. N., Wu Hsiu-Chuan, left for home Tuesday after defeat of his demands for an end to U. S. activities in Formosa and Korea and withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea.

Unless the Peiping position changes, the cease fire committee is expected to report after New Year's Day that it cannot halt the Korean fighting.

Party Leaders Set For Fight On Isolationism

Hoover's Proposals Stir Up Congress

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A new congressional battle loomed today over former President Hoover's proposals to shorten America's defense lines and arm the navy and air force "to the teeth" to defend the nation's Atlantic and Pacific frontiers.

Republican Senate leader Wherry of Nebraska said Hoover's proposals "collide directly" with those of President Truman and Congress and the public must decide who is right.

Most Democratic party leaders avoided immediate comment but Senator Lehman (D-NY) said: "It appears to me to be a plea for a return to complete isolationism. If we followed President Hoover's suggestion, we would find ourselves isolated and without any friends in the world."

Lansing Ready For Inaugural

State Officials Will Take Oath Jan. 1

LANSING—(AP)—Republicans and Democrats finally got together today on an at-least-partially-bipartisan inaugural ceremony for Democratic Governor Williams and his all-Republican cabinet January 1.

The inaugural will take place at 11 a. m. on the main steps of the capitol building. Williams and the other elected state officials will be sworn in by Chief Justice Neil E. Reid of the State Supreme Court while fighter and bomber planes of the Michigan National Guard circle over head and the Grand Lodge high school band gives out with the notes.

Immediately after a 19-gun salute will be fired by the 119th Field Artillery, M. N. G.

Williams will be the only Democrat taking the oath of office. The Republican cabinet will consist of Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr., State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, Attorney General Frank G. Millard and Auditor General John B. Martin, Jr.

Williams will make a brief inaugural address. He is expected to reserve his political fire until his message to the 1951 legislature Jan. 3.

Winter Will Start Friday—Officially

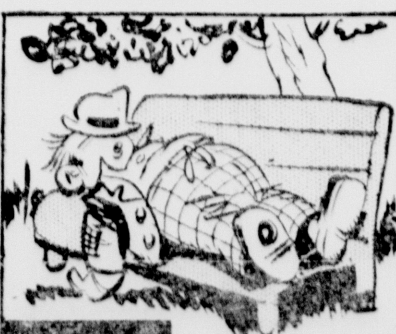

CHICAGO—(AP)—The winter season starts officially tomorrow—after more than a month of cold and wintry weather for most of the Midwest and much of the east. The cold weather continued today over much of the eastern half of the country. There was a below freezing line from the plains states to the New England region. Light snow fell in North Dakota, Minnesota and the upper Great Lakes.

Railway Peace Pact Settled

Agreement Will Run For Three Years

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The White House today announced a three-year peace pact between the major railroads and four operating rail unions.

The agreement provides: For 120,000 railroad yardmen—an immediate increase of 23 cents an hour, with another two cents on Jan. 1 and cost of living adjustments every three months beginning next April 1. The adjustments are to be made at the rate of one cent an hour for every rise or fall of one point in the government's consumers price index.

The 23-cent pay boost is retroactive to Oct. 1. For about 180,000 road service workers—an immediate increase of five cents an hour, also retroactive to Oct. 1, and another five cents effective Jan. 1, plus the same cost of living arrangement. One of the chief demands of the trainmen, conductors, and firemen and engine men was a 40-hour-work week without loss in the present 48-hour pay. A compromise provides that the 40-hour work schedule would be put off at least until Jan. 1, 1952.

Arm To Teeth, Hoover Advises U. S.; Fighting Abroad Called Folly

NEW YORK — (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover urged the nation last night to concentrate on fortifying the western hemisphere as a "Gibraltar."

He called on his fellow-countrymen to "arm to the teeth" to hold the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, with the island outposts of Britain, Japan, Formosa and the Philippines.

Mr. Hoover, speaking on radio and television, said it would be "sheer folly" to engage in land war with Communist hordes in Asia or the continent of Europe.

Defeated In Korea

He urged the United States to "arm our air and naval forces to the teeth" to defend the frontiers he laid out.

Mr. Hoover said the Communists could never break through American sea and air power to invade the western hemisphere. "They can no more reach Washington in force than we can reach Moscow," he declared.

At another point, he expressed the opinion that the atomic bomb is "a far less dominant weapon than it was once thought to be." The only living ex-President, making one of the most important addresses of his long public career, said "it is clear that the United Nations are defeated in Korea."

It would be "inviting another Korea," he declared, to send more troops or money to western European nations before they had armed themselves as a "sure dam against the Red flood."

Defense of western continental Europe rests primarily on the European nations themselves, the 76-year-old former chief executive told his audiences across the nation.

"We have little need for large armies unless we are going to Europe or China," he said. Land war with Communist masses in Asia or western Europe "would be the graveyard of millions of

Philippines Air Wreck Kills 37

Transport Wreckage Sighted On Mountain

BAGUIO, Philippines—(AP)—The charred wreckage of a U. S. C-54 transport that crashed with 37 persons aboard was sighted today high up a rugged 9,324-foot mountain in central Luzon.

Search pilots reported no sign of life.

At least three of the 30 passengers and seven crew members were U. S. Clark Air Base personnel. Another was a civilian U. S. government employee.

Far East Air Forces headquarters in Tokyo has not announced the names of those aboard.

A Clark Air Base spokesman said all but about 50 feet of the tail section was destroyed by the crash and fire.

The big transport was last heard asking for weather reports when within 30 minutes' flying time of Clark field.

Enemy Suffers 10-1 Losses In Futile Attacks

Shattered Communist Ranks Fall Back

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO—(AP)—The Hungnam beachhead lay quiet today after allied land-sea-air barrages mowed down and rolled back the Reds' most menacing attack on the perimeter.

Frozen bodies of Chinese and white-robed Korean Reds littered the snow-cruised east flank of the United Nations defense ring where the attack was made.

Western Front Quiet

Communist survivors apparently were rumbled to a standstill by the fury of round-the-clock bombardment Wednesday by allied warships, planes and land artillery.

Field dispatches reported the shattered survivors were thrown back from the point of gravest peril to the allied forces holding their last slices of northeast Korea around Hungnam on the Sea of Japan shore.

Quiet also was reported on the western Korean front.

General MacArthur's headquarters reported the Chinese had suffered heavy losses—at a ratio of 10 to 1—during the darkest days of the allied retreat from most of North Korea, Nov. 27 to Dec. 12.

The United Nations commander reported U. N. casualties in the Nov. 27-Dec. 12 period at 12,975 not including those suffered by Republic of Korea forces. All of the allied—killed, wounded and missing during the two-week period were American except 1,071 from other U. N. forces.

Before that period, the defense department in Washington had listed American casualties in Korea at 31,028 through Nov. 24, including 5,307 dead.

The Chinese have been around the Hungnam beachhead in great force for days, but it was apparent that the battling retreat of U. S. Marines and 10th Corps doughboys farther north had badly crippled an estimated 10 Red divisions.

Red efforts to reorganize their forces were progressing slowly—too slowly to hamper the planned withdrawal of American forces on the Hungnam beach. U. S. losses there are reported extremely small considering the action involved.

Acheson Faces GOP Challenge

Decisive Mission In Europe Completed

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson returned from his shortest and most decisive mission to Europe today to face a stiff new Republican challenge to his policy of European rearmament as well as his continuance in office.

Flying about 15 hours behind schedule because of bad weather Acheson landed at Washington's National airport at 3:15 a. m. EST. He had left here only last Sunday and in the intervening three days had:

1. Agreed, as American representative on the North Atlantic treaty council, meeting at Brussels, to creation of a 1,000,000-man international European defense army, which will include both American and German units, under General Dwight Eisenhower as supreme commander.

2. Worked out with British Foreign Minister Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman a final draft of a note to Russia expressing readiness for a big-four meeting to discuss East-West differences on a wide range of issues.

3. Signed a "greeting" to the farmer Arnold L. Schroeder, added: "Inclosed find one order to report for induction form which I thought I would return to you because I do not expect to be there to report on the date specified (Nov. 30)."

Specifically Schroeder pleaded guilty to violation of the Selective Service Act. District Judge Raymond W. Starr said he would sentence Schroeder Dec. 29 and released him on $3,000 bond until that date.

Mrs. Place's husband, Charles, died in 1902 at the age of 55.

Mobilization Chief Takes Over; ESA To Check Price Boosts

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Charles E. Wilson took office today as director of defense mobilization and immediately appointed General Lucius Clay and banker Sidney Weinberg as his assistants.

Wilson, former president of General Electric, told reporters of the two appointments at the White House after taking the oath of office in President's Truman's presence.

Wilson said Clay and Weinberg will serve without compensation. He took the oath of office less than 24 hours after the Senate confirmed his appointment.

Already, in another step toward cushioning the shock of the defense buildup on the nation's economy, the government had asked 250 large corporations to give at least seven days' notice before raising prices on any major products.

Auto Rollback Stays

Economic stabilization director Alan Valentine said this would give his agency time to study the proposals and decide if they were justified. If not, the agency could ask or order their abandonment.

Valentine telegraphed the companies to give such advance notices on any line in which they do an annual business of $500,000 or more.

The economic stabilization agency (ESA), also told General motors corporation that its appeal for modification of an automobile price roll-back has been rejected.

Commenting on the rapid developments in the fight against inflation, Rep. Sheppard (D-Calif.) said today that lack of controls retroactive to June already has cost the military rearmament program $5,300,000,000 due to price increases.

Sheppard is vice-chairman of the House armed services committee.

Inflation Costly

And the Senate appropriations committee issued a statement sharply criticizing the soaring prices of rubber tires, uniforms, parachutes and other items vital to the defense buildup.

The committee estimated inflation has cut the value of defense appropriations since the Korean fighting began by approximately $3,000,000,000.

Wilson resigned as president of General Electric to become director of defense mobilization. The assignment carries with it sweeping authority to run all the government's mobilization activities, including production, procurement, manpower, transportation and economic stabilization.

The new mobilization chief served as executive vice-president of the war production board in World War II.

Five Persons Hurt In Marquette Hotel Mystery Explosion

MARQUETTE, Mich. — (AP)—Five persons were injured, one seriously, by an explosion of unknown origin in front of the Hotel Northland shortly before midnight last night.

City police, the fire department and the state fire marshal are investigating the blast, which apparently, according to witnesses, "was not accidental." One woman hotel guest told of looking out the window of her room and seeing "between six and ten boys running away" from the scene.

However, Detective Leonard Bartelli, of the state police fire marshal division, said he believed the explosion occurred "inside the bar."

The explosion, at 11:30 p. m., jarred a crowded Hotel Northland bar and knocked many persons, including four of the injured, to the floor.

A 14-year-old boy, Albert Sanderson, walking on the other side of the street from the hotel, was among those injured. He was struck by flying metal from the barroom's window casing.

Most seriously hurt was John Miller, of Marquette, who was cut on the back, from his spine to his neck, by flying pieces of glass. He is in St. Luke's hospital, where his condition is reported "good."

Others treated in Marquette hospitals for cuts from flying glass, but not as seriously hurt, were Charles Rose and Roy Bullock of Marquette and Edward Luoma of Royal Oak. Luoma was reported stopping at the hotel en route to Hancock.

The bartender, Raymond Thibodeau, also was given first aid treatment at a hospital, but was released immediately.

Windows in the Peter White public library and the Marquette county historical society's building, across the street from the hotel, and on the ground and second floors of the Hotel Northland were shattered by the explosion.

The force of the blast was so great that pieces of glass pierced the fenders of a car parked in front of the hotel.

Damage amounted to several thousand dollars, according to Marquette Police Chief Donald McCormick.

Engineer John Reed of Grand Rapids told police the car at first seemed to stop.

"Then it lurched out in front of the train," he added.

The impact demolished the car and dragged it nearly half a mile under a diaduct. Several Christmas packages were scattered along the track.

Three Oaks Farmer Admits He Spurned Draft Order Nov. 30

GRAND RAPIDS — (AP)—A 21-year-old Three Oaks, Mich., farmer pleaded guilty in U. S. district court here yesterday to sending his Berrien county draft board his own letter of "greetings"—and no thanks.

Right behind "greetings," the farmer Arnold L. Schroeder, added: "Inclosed find one order to report for induction form which I thought I would return to you because I do not expect to be there to report on the date specified (Nov. 30)."

Specifically Schroeder pleaded guilty to violation of the Selective Service Act. District Judge Raymond W. Starr said he would sentence Schroeder Dec. 29 and released him on $3,000 bond until that date.

Delta Road Crews Fight Worst Winter In Years

Snowfighters of the Delta county road commission, bucking the worst winter road conditions in many years, are keeping open a total of 947 miles of state, county and township roads despite bad drifts and ice.

Plowing this year began on Nov. 18 and has been almost continuous since that date, according to William J. Karas, road commission superintendent-engineer. Ice conditions are still bad on most of the blacktop and gravel-surfaced county roads. Concrete state trunklines are practically clear.

Of the total 947 miles of roads plowed during the winter and maintained in the summer months 674 are described as township or McNitt roads, 146 miles are in the county system, and 127 miles are state trunklines.

Cost Expected Higher

Average cost of snow removal and ice control for the past ten years has been $49.67 per mile per year—but the cost this year will go far above the average if

Double Death Still Mystery

Autopsies Fail To Disclose Cause

MISSION, Kas. — (AP) — Authorities today were having a chemical test made of the stomach contents of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Savageau in an effort to determine the cause of their strange deaths.

The couple was found dead in their home near here Tuesday and preliminary surveys in an autopsy failed to provide a death cause. Dr. J. A. Knoop, Johnson county coroner, said the chemical analysis would take a week or ten days.

Daughters of the couple, Mrs. R. L. Sims of Lansing, Mich., and Mrs. A. C. Hauswald of Broadview, Ill., arrived last night. Mrs. Sims said she doubted her parents had done anything to take their own lives. No evidence of physical violence has been found.

The Savageaus moved here from Chicago in 1947. Mrs. Sims said her brother, Marshall, died three years ago. He was 14.

Surviving Mrs. Savageau are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Derocher, Escanaba, Mich.

Savageau is survived also by a sister, Mrs. Edith Wrobleksi, Detroit and four brothers, Albert and Donald Savageau, both of Detroit, William Savageau, Escanaba, and the Rev. Paul Savageau, Depere, Wis.

Funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Savageau will be conducted in Escanaba.

Dam On Paint River Planned

Wisconsin-Michigan Power Will Expand

IRON RIVER, MICH.—Further expansion of hydro-electric power facilities harnessing the potential energy of rugged streams flowing down the east side of Iron county is contemplated by the Wisconsin Michigan Power company, officials of the firm have advised William A. Markert of Chatham, chairman of the Iron county board of supervisors.

M. G. Gorrow of Appleton, general manager, has notified Markert that his company will send representatives to appear at the January meeting of the county board in Crystal Falls to ask permission for the installation of another dam, this one to be located on the Paint river a distance above Horseshoe rapids.

The dam located in a narrow defile where fast water rushes would divert water to the Michigan, a parallel stream east of the Paint, and would increase the flow of water and the resulting hydro electric potential on the Michigan. The WMPCo. also has the large Peavy and Way dams on the Michigan in Iron county.

Lift Diversion Ban

To increase production of electric energy not only for domestic and industrial needs but for vital defense requirements, the WMPCo. is planning on considerable expansion and enlargement of its hydro facilities, Gorrow informed Markert.

The state conservation commission at Lansing recently agreed to remove the ban on flow diversion of the Paint and Michigan rivers in Iron county which was originally prescribed in a state and sale to the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co.

More Efficient Use

The purpose is to permit more efficient use of surplus stream flows. Diversion is expected to change fishing somewhat, from bass to pike and other types. As part of the agreement, the power company will deed to the state about 800 acres in the scenic rocky gorge Horseshoe Rapids area along the Paint river, gained by winding road across the Panola sand plains southwest of Crystal Falls and adjacent to US-2.

When the hydro projects are completed, the total value of the WMPCo. dams and reservoirs of recent development on the Paint and Michigan rivers will be in excess of $3,500,000 Markert was informed.

More Power Provided

Clearance must subsequently be obtained from state and federal agencies for the Paint river dam project. Chairman Markert said the hydro-electric development of the WMPCo. is greatly increasing the assessed valuation of Mastodon and Mansfield townships in which the units are located.

The dams are increasing electrical power energy available to local mines and domestic consumers.

Way dam was first built as a reservoir to accumulate waters of the Michigan. Then Peavy dam was built, and a power generating plant installed at Peavy falls; later a power generating plant was installed at Way dam.

Wm. J. Lafond War Casualty

Former Escanaban
Wounded In Korea

Pfc. William J. Lafond, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lafond, 1414 Chapin street, Jackson, formerly of Escanaba, was wounded in the arm and leg while defending a machine gun position during a Communist counterattack on the 3rd infantry division in Korea Nov. 20.

Pfc. Lafond was evacuated to a hospital in Japan and later was transferred to Percy Jones hospital in Battle Creek. The Lafond family moved from Escanaba to Jackson about six years ago.

Pfc. Lafond and four other infantrymen were defending a machine gun position on a hillside during a Red attack. A hand grenade knocked out the machine gun while Lafond was firing it, temporarily blinding him. He later helped hold off the North Korean attack with his carbine. After an all-night fight, reinforcements rescued the machine gun crew. Two of Lafond's buddies were killed and two others wounded. There were 38 Communists dead in front of their position.

Pfc. Lafond attended school in Escanaba. He enlisted in the Air Force in Jackson for three years. After he was discharged he reenlisted, this time in the Army. The second enlistment occurred only three months ago. After a short period of training, Pfc. Lafond was sent overseas with other veteran replacements.

Stores Report Good Christmas Business

A preview of what Santa Claus will leave under Escanaba Christmas trees this year indicates he's going to do as well or better than he has at any Christmas since World War II.

Escanaba stores report sales are equal or better than any year and many expect their biggest since 1945. Purchases have been made later than usual, but in larger quantities.

And most Christmas trees will have bigger presents under them, and much less of the smaller gift items.

For the homes, waffle irons, toasters, electric percolators and imported chinaware from occupied Japan won special favor this year. Bigger items for the home, new furniture etc., were harder for Santa Claus this year, because of tighter government controls on credit.

Mom and Pop are going to receive their usual array of shirts, ties, scarfs, purses and other useful items. Santa went in heavy for musical powder boxes, handkerchiefs and fountain pen sets, more so than before.

Well my Cousin Gust Giddap-son says the Govt. cust cut down on a lot of the Belyakin in this Country if they would see to it that we got some Saleratus which is also know by name of Baking Soda.

Hopeing you are the Same
By Andy P. Olafson.

A considerable attitude on the part of the jolly old fellow is indicated for this year he bought only small amount of guns and other toys patterned from war material. He probably figured everyone was thinking enough about it anyway, and bought fountain pens instead.

He had more money however, for bigger and better toys and small items for the home. Money he ordinarily would have used for downpayments on big Christmas gifts was used for these because of government controls on credit.

A high cost of living, merchants report, made Santa think twice and look hard before buying this year, and a heavy snowstorm interfered with his shopping.

Music Program
Music students of Escanaba senior high school last night presented their annual Christmas concert in Oliver auditorium, before an audience estimated at 500 persons.

The high school band, orchestra, string ensemble and a capella choir performed. Directing the concert, which included much beautiful Christmas music, were Robert S. Meyer, Mrs. Clara Somers and Miss Jessie Wick.

Band and orchestra players were seated on risers recently purchased by the music department with funds obtained from sponsorship of the U. S. Marine band concert.

Laufenberg Quits As Secretary Of Menominee C. Of C.

MENOMINEE, Mich.—Ray P. Laufenberg, executive secretary of the Menominee Chamber of Commerce, submitted his resignation to the Chamber's board of directors to accept a similar post with the St. Joseph, Mich., Chamber of Commerce.

Laufenberg asked to be relieved of his present connection in about 30 days so he could assume his duties at St. Joseph on Jan. 15. St. Joseph is a city of about 15,000 people with industry and the tourist business as important economic factors. With Benton Harbor, Mich., the two cities are similar in size and economic life to the twin cities of Menominee and Marinette.

Laufenberg has been secretary of the Menominee Chamber since Dec. 1, 1946 when he succeeded George E. Hedger, who was the first postwar, full-time secretary of the Menominee organization. Before coming to Menominee Laufenberg had been with the analysis and adjustment division of the Office of Price Administration at Milwaukee.

A native of Avoca, Wis., Laufenberg attended the University of Wisconsin and was a high school instructor and assistant principal of Plymouth, Wis., High school for several years before joining the federal agency. He was also with the Federal Land bank at St. Paul, Minn.

Besides his duties as secretary of the Menominee Chamber, Laufenberg was secretary of the U. P. Air Transportation Committee and active in promoting airport development and airline service to the peninsula.

Manistique Man Pays Fine For Deer Poaching

Clifford St. John of Manistique, charged with shooting a small buck deer on Oct. 29 in the fly shed area on M-35 a half mile north of Cedar River, Saturday pleaded guilty before Justice Albert Sanders in Stephenson and was fined $100 and costs.

His hunting license previously had been revoked for three years. Charges against Norman St. John, his brother, arrested at the same time and charged with having a shotgun and buckshot in his automobile, were dismissed.

The brothers were arrested near Carney by Conservation Officer Clarence Lienna of Stephenson and county traffic officers who had set up a roadblock against the St. John car, which they learned was heading south for Manitowoc where the St. Johns are employed.

When the car reached the block-ade, Lienna reported, Clifford St. John jumped from the car and slipped into the woods, eluding the officers. He was apprehended about two hours later after he had hitchhiked a ride on a truck hauling evergreen boughs south.

Previous to the arrest on US-41, Lienna said, the St. Johns drove through a road block set up by Conservation Officer Edward Vort near Cedar River.

Eisenhower's Appointment Gives European Army Able Leadership

THE appointment of General Eisenhower as the supreme commander of western allied forces in Europe gives this command the outstanding leadership that is required. The selection of Eisenhower for the job was made by the foreign and defense ministers of the 12 nations meeting at Brussels.

The American general is ideally fitted for the position, as he proved in World War II when he commanded the millions of Allied troops in the European theater of war. He is not only a brilliant military strategist but possesses the ability to get the full cooperation of all of the various nations allied in this program of mutual defense. The job is one that calls for diplomatic as well as military leadership. General Eisenhower meets these requirements fully.

General Eisenhower is confronted with a tremendous problem in building a defense force in Europe that can cope with the menace of Communistic aggression. The present aim is to build an army of about one million men by the end of 1953, of which about 150,000 would be contributed by the west German republic.

The fate of the world in a very literal sense is dependent upon the integrated army that General Eisenhower will command. The decision in the conflict between freedom vs. Communism will be made in Europe, regardless of the outcome of the fighting in Korea or the possible developments elsewhere in Asia.

Soviet Russia can never dominate the world unless the Red armies can sweep over Europe and gain access to the productive capacities of the European continent. It is in recognition of this fact that the western powers refuse to be drawn into a full scale war against Red China, which would serve only to dissipate our resources and leave Russia free to seize all of Europe.

If You Want Tickets Get In Line, Tovarich

THE Communists are the party of the people, remember? And we in America are wicked capitalists, remember?

Then note this: General Wu and his Chinese Red delegation at the UN decided the other night to visit New York's famed Radio City Music Hall. According to newspaper accounts, they demanded the best seats in the house immediately.

Told all seats were filled and they'd have to wait, Wu demanded to see the manager. The latter said that in America nobody is tossed out of a seat, no matter how impressive the dignity who wants it.

Wu said he'd pay for the seats, which diplomats usually don't have to do at the Music Hall. But the manager pointed out that everyone inside had also paid and was entitled to stay.

By this time, the theater manager was so disturbed that he insisted Wu and party pay anyway. So—the Chinese Reds waited AND paid. It was believed to be the first time a diplomat didn't get in free.

Undoubtedly this incident will be ignored in Moscow and Peking. But if it were reported, can't you see the headlines? "Another Defeat for the People." "Chinese Discriminated Against by American Imperialists." "Reds Entry Into Theater Delayed While Americans Conceal Vital Radar Equipment."

SANTA HAS TROUBLES (Christian Science Monitor)

Even Santa Claus, it appears, is occasionally finding it difficult this year to make friends with people by giving them things.

First there was the disquieting account of the reception he received on his appearance as part of a chamber of commerce parade in Pekin, Illinois. Believe it or not, Santa was heartily pelted with snowballs from the hands of pranksters of junior high school age.

Only slightly less chagrined was the Santa in a Kansas City department store whom three-year-old Jeffery Miller confronted with the warning, "You've got Grandpa's sleigh, and I want you to be careful with it." Sure enough, the sleigh had been rented from Grandpa Everett Miller.

In Eau Claire, Wisconsin, the genial gentleman's sleigh seems to have run afoul of a belated Halloween. Overnight it disappeared entirely.

Santa is a fairly durable character, though. He has to be to stand an all-day procession of toddlers climbing over his knees, a certain number getting sticky fingers tangled in his beard, and others trying to peek behind the mask. But the idea of love and good will, of which Santa Claus is the perennial symbol, is durable enough to survive any number of physical vicissitudes.

The Lights

There's a lot of things at Christmas time we always love to see. Like the pile of handsome packages beneath a stately tree, and the beaming smile of Santa Claus and all his wondrous toys, plus the tasty turkey dinner that the family enjoys. But there's nothing quite so stirring on the cold and starry nights, as the brilliance and the beauty of the twinkling Christmas lights.

Be they large and quite expensive, marking mansions 'long the way, be it just a single, glowing wreath where humble people stay, there's a warmth in any Christmas light which stirs a person's heart, as it points the way to peace and sets the holidays apart. Each is but another symbol of that greatest earthly star, which, at Bethlehem, first shone to spread its faith and love afar.

So each year we watch the Christmas lights which brighten up the sky, with the knowledge that they represent the Helping Hand on High. And we then resolve to do our best to let the darkness cease, and to try and light the path-way down the road of love and peace. For no matter what the future holds, the strength of man unites, as we watch the shining glory of those twinkling Christmas lights.

Merry-Go-Round

WASHINGTON—A top-secret study of anti-Communist guerrilla strength in China is being rushed to the joint chiefs of staff, in case of more serious difficulties with the Chinese Communists. Highlights of this study are:

1. China is infested with unorganized, roaming bands of ex-Nationalist troops, dispossessed landlords, and thousands of Chinese driven by hunger to steal and loot for food. They are not coordinated and often scrap with each other over the spoils. The estimated number of anti-Communist "bandits," as the Peking government calls them, is around 1,500,000.

2. China's Communist boss, Mao-Tse-tung, has reversed his policy of "education" for non-Communists and ordered a drastic reign of terror against them. The drive is called the "bandit suppression campaign of the people's dictatorship." Martial law has been declared in five provinces and wholesale arrests are being made in such cities as Shanghai, Tsingtao, Chungking and Canton.

A recent announcement by Peking, for example, claimed 13,063 "bandits exterminated" in Chekiang province during the campaign, and the seizure of stores of rifles, rocket guns and machine guns.

3. The only well-organized guerrillas are units of the Nationalist army left behind to support themselves. They are strongest in the three southern provinces of Kwangtung, Kwangsi and Hunan, number approximately 30,000, and are nominally under a Chinese Robin Hood, Chou Tien-hsiung. Their strategy is hit-run raids on Communist communications, food and ammunition stores. The organized guerrillas call themselves the Anti-Communist National Salvation Army.

Note—In order to use these guerrillas to aid the United States, it would be necessary to drop liaison officers and supplies by plane as we did in Greece and Yugoslavia and during World War II.

INTERLOCKING DIRECTORS

The federal trade commission has prepared an exhaustive report on one important loophole in the anti-trust laws.

It shows how big competitors actually work together through interlocking directors. In other words, rival directors sitting on the same board of another company, can work out mutual understandings in restraint of trade.

As an illustration the trade commission points out that U. S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin are supposed to be competing steel companies, yet both have directors on the board of the New York Central railroad where Alexander Nagle of U. S. Steel and E. B. Greene of Jones & Laughlin are brought together.

Likewise, U. S. Steel's Sewell Avery sits on the same Northern Trust company board with Inland Steel's Edward Ryerson. Avery also is a director of Pullman, Inc., alongside J. Frank Drake of the American Rolling Mills, who sits with still another U. S. Steel director, R. C. Stanley, on the board of Chase National Bank. Four steel company directors belong to the board of Goodyear Tire and Rubber—George Sloan of U. S. Steel, Tom Girdler of Republic Steel and Lewis Williams and John McWilliams of Youngstown Sheet and Tube. This is only part of the complicated network of directorships linking the nation's steel companies.

WALL STREET REPRESENTATIVES

The FTC report reveals that approximately 1,600 persons hold more than one directorship in the thousand largest corporations. Of these, 32 hold five or more directorships in about 160 of the top manufacturing corporations and 85 of the non-manufacturing corporations. The big Wall Street financial houses in particular have long lists of directors who frequently sit on the boards of competing companies.

For example, Lehman Brothers has 35 directors, Goldman-Sachs has 29 and J. P. Morgan has 20 directors on big interlocking corporations. As a typical case, J. P. Morgan has directors on the boards of both Kennecott Copper and Phelps Dodge, two of the largest copper companies.

As another example of how competing companies are linked through interlocking directors, the board of the Chase National Bank includes J. Frank Drake, chairman of Gulf Oil; A. N. Temp, director of Standard Oil of California; Arthur W. Page, director of Continental Oil; and Robert E. Wilson, chairman of Standard Oil of Indiana.

RAMBLING AMONG WORDS

Cameron: Our choir director insists that the secretary print on the church programs "quiere" for choir. Will you please clear this for us?—H. S.

A. "Quiere" for choir is archaic. I advise not using it, for it is sure to be a spotlight. Since most people are unacquainted with the obsolete spelling "quiere" will be taken for ignorance.

Long Bench: In church circles here there is a friendly controversy over the pronunciation of the word "bow" in Ecclesiastes 12: 3: "... and the strong men shall bow themselves. . ." Should "bow" rhyme with "cow" or with "foe"?—A. L. P.

A. The proper pronunciation rhymes with "cow."

An archaic meaning of bow was, "to bend down; to stoop." In the original Hebrew, both was Jewish, "to get crooked." However, the meaning of Ecclesiastes 12: 3 is figurative and describes the infirmities of old age. "In the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble" refers to the trembling of an old man's hands; "and the strong men shall bow themselves" refers to the bending of the feeble legs; "and the grinders shall cease because they are few" refers to the loss of the teeth; "and those that look out of the windows shall be darkened" refers to the dimness of the sight.

Overheard on a newscast: "... might result in a massacre of peaceful Jews in Palestine."

82nd Congress Must Decide If It Should Increase Its Membership

By HERBERT HOLLANDER

Soon after the 82nd Congress convenes in January, the House of Representatives must make up its mind on the important question of the size of its own membership.

As a result of the increase in population as shown by the 1950 decennial census, the house will have to decide whether or not to increase the number of its members. It has stood unchanged at 435 since 1910. Whatever it finally decides to do the house must promptly notify state governors of changes in representation which will require redistricting.

If the size of the house is not increased, nine states will lose one or more representatives in the reapportionment which must follow on the basis of the census returns. They are Arkansas, 1; Kentucky 1; Illinois, 1; Missouri, 2; Mississippi, 1; New York, 2; Oklahoma, 2; Pennsylvania, 3; and Tennessee, 1. This means that these States will lose, between them, a total of 14 seats.

Michigan Gains One

On the other hand, seven States also will pick up a total of 14 seats.

Chief individual gainer will be California, with an increase of 7 seats. Florida's increased population entitles her to 2 additional seats. Maryland gets 1; Michigan, 1; Texas, 1; Virginia, 1; and Washington State, 1.

It is expected that there will be some effort on the part of delegations in the house from states which stand to lose seats as a result of the reapportionment to prevail upon their colleagues to vote for an increase in the overall size of the house, thus enabling those states to keep their present representation while at the same time according the increased representation to the states which will be certain to get it as a result of the census findings.

Although the possibility that the house may take such action is recognized, most observers on Capitol Hill do not believe that the proposal will be approved.

There is a great deal of sentiment in congressional circles to the effect that the House is already unwieldy in size and that further to increase its membership would simply add to the difficulty of legislating effectively. However, those who favor an increase argue that the steady increase in population is raising the average number of constituents to a point beyond which it is impossible for the member to function efficiently in his behalf.

Under the provisions of the constitution, no house member may represent less than 30,000 persons. In 1930, there was one representative in the House for each 331,000 Americans. If the size of the house is not increased, the increase of 12,000,000 in our national population will mean there will be one representative for approximately every 235,000 persons.

That increase, by the way, is the greatest growth ever in one year recorded in the entire history of the country.

President Makes Report

The procedure under which the Congress will receive the results of the census is not generally known but is well established and although the president has a part in it, his action is mandatory and he has no say in what happens on this subject, one way or another.

Within a few days after the 82nd Congress convenes, the president will transmit, formally and without comment, the official population totals as prepared by the Census Bureau following the 1950 non-counting. He must do this, under the law, within the first week of the convening of Congress.

The house then must decide whether to increase its membership to take care of all present seats plus the increase indicated by the population trends, or to allow the membership to remain at its present level, which has been unchanged now for 40 years. The clerk of the House of Representatives has the responsibility of informing the state governors of the action of the house and of the results of the census which have brought about changes in representation in their respective states. It is then up to the state legislatures to set up new congressional districts so that they will be ready in time for the elections two years from now.

The house is the sole arbiter of the size of its membership, within the constitutional provisions. Thus it has an additional alternative in addition to the possibility of increasing its size and the probability of maintaining its present total of members. It could, if it saw fit, actually vote a reduction. This, admittedly, is not within the realm of remote likelihood, although there are many on Capitol Hill who declare privately that such action might actually be in the public interest by stepping-up legislative effectiveness, which, to many, appears to be in inverse ratio to increased size.

The 1950 census has revealed not only unprecedented population gains but also, as pointed out by Roy V. Peel, Director of the Census Bureau, marked "impressive" changes in the internal distribution of the population.

West Shows Gains

As Director Peel says, "the long time westward movement of the population has continued at an increasing pace, and for the first time the West, comprising the Pacific and Mountain States, led the four regions of the United States in amount as well as rate of growth between the successive decennial censuses."

And to analysts in Washington this means, likewise, a continuing westward shift in the political center of gravity, most spectacularly highlighted by California's projected gain of seven new seats in the house under the present formula of equal proportions. States in each section, with one exception, are represented among losers or gainers under the census findings. Representation in the house from all of the New England states, including Connecticut, will remain unchanged in any event.

The grand total of U. S. population, as of the 1950 census date, was 150,697,361. Included in this number are more than 800,000 American citizens the majority of whom have no direct representation in either house of congress. They are residents of the District of Columbia, the largest single group of disfranchised Americans anywhere.

No matter what the house does about its membership, the census figures will have no effect upon representation in the United States Senate. For while house membership is based upon population, each state has two senators regardless of population. Nevada, for example, the most sparsely populated of the states, with 100,000 persons as of the 1950 census, has two senators just as does New York state, with its 14,820,192 people.

Nevada, by the way, is one of several states which have two senators and one representative. The others are Delaware, Vermont and Wyoming. In these instances the members of the House are elected at-large, in other words, for the state as a whole instead of the usual district.

In addition the territories of Alaska and Hawaii each have a single delegate in the house of representatives, and Puerto Rico a resident commissioner. These members may introduce legislation and have full privileges of the floor, but they do not have votes. They are elected at-large by qualified voters in the territories. The census figures would not affect them unless or until congress changed the status of any one or all three from territorial to State.

RESPONSE—There is only one flaw in this happy Christmas season: The difficulty of finding the right response to the individual who wishes you "a merry Christmas!"

Some people reply by saying, "The same to you," which does not seem quite hearty enough. Others shout "merry Christmas" right back, and at least one man we know always adds "merry Christmas — and a happy New Year."

The story is told of the old woodsman who came to Escanaba to do some shopping during the Christmas season. When he paid for his purchases the smiling clerk said thank you "and a Merry Christmas!"

"Oh, that's all right," replied the old chap, pocketing his change.

It is our conclusion that the best way to avoid the difficulty of responding to the Christmas greeting is to be the first to give it. This leaves the problem of reply up to the other fellow.

CARDS FOR TOMMY — The holidays are being made tippier for Tommy Todish of Nahma, 13, who is receiving many greeting cards and cheery messages from folks in Northern Michigan and Wisconsin. You see, Tommy is confined to bed, encased in a heavy body cast.

We have had a number of inquiries for Tommy's name and address after the column first reported that he would welcome Christmas messages. They will reach him if you address them to Thomas Todish, Nahma.

Clark "Bud" Cuthbert of 230 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba, telephoned to ask whether Tommy might like some books for boys, and we said we believed he would. They will be delivered to him when the Escanaba Daily Press carries the papers to Nahma.

TROUBLE FOR SANTA—An Escanaba man who is much in demand to play Santa Claus for the children at Christmas parties recounted some of his troubles that have occurred through the years.

There was the time at a church children's party, for example, when Santa's over-stuffed stomach attracted the attention of a precocious little girl. In a loud voice for all to hear, the child inquired: "Mother, is Santa going to the hospital to have an X-ray?"

Another time the amateur Santa was laughing heartily and being merry and gay in the good old Santa tradition when he was stunned to have one of his little admirers remark scornfully, "Boy, is he corny!"

Despite the remembered slights to his dignity, however, Santa's helper is grateful for one thing. In the passing years they have fire-proofed Santa's whiskers. "I always had a dread in the old days that one of the Christmas candles would turn me into a human torch," he confided.

SAFETY FIRST AND LAST—With the Christmas holidays just around the weekend corner and boys and girls out of school, there will be the temptation for them to go skating on the thin ice along the shore of the bay.

Parents who would like to have their children on hand for Christmas Day should warn the youngsters of the dangers of bay ice. Even a short distance off shore, in some places, the water depths are sufficient to bring tragedy.

It might be well to make the children join in a New Year's resolution to skate only at city rinks. The indoor risk is open and others are being readied. Wait and skate in safety.

ICE FISHING—Hook and line fishermen who are impatient for the season to start might also heed the warning and venture on the ice only after it is safe.

Otherwise the tragic stories of last year will be repeated—with the only change that of the names of the victims. It is a large price to pay to get your name in the paper.

Washington — Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion who has been a Marine Corps private, a lecturer on Shakespeare at Yale, official of a bank, and chairman of the board of the American Distilling company, now is an officer in the U. S. Navy. In a brief ceremony today, Admiral Chester Nimitz administered the oath and Secretary Knox presented Tunney with his commission as a lieutenant commander.

Manistique—John Solar, student of Michigan State college, is spending the holidays at his home here.

Gladstone—Jack Staple, who is affiliated with the chemical engineering department of the Dupont film manufacturing company, has arrived to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Staple.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba — I. Park Channing of New York, nationally known mining engineer, has given $5,000 to the village of Channing for erection of a clubhouse there. The old high school building will be taken over by a board of trustees named by Mr. Channing and will be converted into a gymnasium and clubrooms. Mr. Channing, for whom the community was named, was an early explorer in the iron and copper country and formerly was a geologist for the Milwaukee road.

Escanaba—A smiling young man who champions the realms of hoboes visited Escanaba yesterday to spread cheer during the alleged business depression. He is Joseph Leo Lasarowitz, a Rumanian Hebrew, who was elected king of the hoboes at Minneapolis Sept. 10, 1927. The hobo king has visited every country in the world except Russia. Leon is 25 and has been traveling 11 years. He plans to settle down after six more months of travel and write a book.

Gladstone—Mrs. H. J. Norton was elected president of All Saints Guild at the annual election meeting last night.

Chinese Reds Plan To Communize Asia

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON—The tempo of mobilization is being greatly speeded up. This is occurring in an atmosphere of crisis. Whether total war becomes inevitable once these massive wheels have been set in motion is today a question in many minds.

The answer to that question for the immediate future is likely to be found in Asia and the war now being fought there. The United Nations general assembly has named a three-man committee to try to work out a cease-fire in the Korean war.

But Peiping's Wu Hsiu-Chan, rejecting the U. N. plan, now seems to have definitely closed the door on the possibility of working out a truce. The stumbling block is the island of Formosa and the presence on Formosa of Chiang Kai-Shek and what remains of his Nationalist armies.

No Deal On Formosa
From both the political and the military point of view it is being taken as increasingly certain that no compromise over Formosa is possible. Since there can be no solution of the Formosa issue, hostilities between the United States and Communist China will continue and expand in geographical area. This is the concept of the limited war which has begun to gain wide acceptance.

In one phase this would consist of a sea-air blockade of the Chinese mainland. In a more advanced phase it would consist of increasing aid to the Nationalists, including landing craft and planes to enable Chiang's forces to join up with anti-Communist guerrillas in China.

Before this becomes frozen as policy, it would be well to consider how such an extension of hostilities is regarded by Asians who have sided in one degree or another with the United States and the West in the present conflict. It is hardly an exaggeration to say that for the most part they regard it with dread and horror, for they see flowing from it the following consequences.

India Threatened
Chinese Communist armies will move much faster and further on the flank of India. They will invest all of Tibet. At present the troops invading that remote mountain country have come to something like a standstill about 270 miles from Lhasa, the capital, and in India the belief is that they are pausing to determine whether a truce will be achieved in Korea.

The Chinese will intervene actively in the internal dispute in Nepal which, according to Indian sources, they have not done up to this time. Controlling Nepal, they will materially extend their flanking action on the northwest and northeast.

The Burmese are fearful that limited war against China would send Chinese armies across the border into Burma. They would receive active and widespread support from Communist guerrillas that have long endangered the stability of the Burmese government. The power of that government to resist such an invasion is limited, to put it mildly. With Burma occupied, India would be outflanked and in position where a merciless squeeze could be applied.

Limited war against China would be likely to bring an assault on the British crown colony of Hong Kong. How long Hong Kong could survive an attack of Chinese forces determined to take it is anyone's guess.

Trouble in Malaya
As the recent Moslem riots have indicated, Britain's position in Malaya with its riches of tin and rubber is doubtful. The most formidable threat is a large fifth column of Chinese that has increasingly come under the direct control of the Red regime in Peiping. The British have had to maintain a considerable armed force in Malaya to keep order, which is one reason they have not been able to send more troops to Korea.

Lastly, there is Indo-China where the border with China, thanks to recent success of Ho Chi-Minh's Communist guerrillas, is now open. Here, too, Communist China has the capacity to apply sufficient armed force to drive out the French and there is comparatively little that sea or air power could do to prevent it.

When these consequences are pointed out to the politicians arguing the inevitable necessity of maintaining at least limited hostilities against Red China, their reply is almost automatic. They say that regardless of what the United States might or might not do, the intention of Mao Tse-Tung and the men around him in Peiping is to Communize all of Asia and a limited war would at the most speed up the process. To force a speedup might help to throw China off balance since it would prevent preparations considered essential to such far-reaching action.

This is, in essence, an argument that total war against Communism has all along been inevitable. And the argument has a terrifying logic inherent in it. But it is not likely to be accepted by those who would feel the crushing blows of the Chinese war machine. They will only because it is the last refuge of hope, to the belief that the Chinese regime can somehow be brought around to peaceful compromise and they will be likely to blame the United States if all of Asia flames into war.

Cantata Author Leaves Prison

Tennessee Governor Pardons Composer

NASHVILLE, Tenn., (AP)—Frank M. Grandstaff, who composed the 70-page "Big Spring Cantata" in his prison cell, soon will be a free man.

It is believed he will be the first ever pardoned as an habitual criminal in Tennessee.

Before an announcement by Gov. Gordon Browning last night, the 49-year-old convict-composer had the prospect of spending the rest of his life behind prison walls.

Browning said, "I am giving him a pardon to let him get out of the state. All the matters for which he was convicted were very small offenses and I am not satisfied to leave him there."

The governor said he would sign the pardon papers today or tomorrow. He added he understood Grandstaff will go to Indiana or Texas.

The cantata was the key that unlocked prison doors for Grandstaff's week of freedom in Big Spring, Tex., in October, 1949. It was inspired by a book written by Dr. Earl Phillips. Grandstaff was guest of honor at the Big Spring centennial.

Grandstaff's record shows 20 offenses, mostly larceny. It was a Memphis larceny that brought him the life sentence 10 years ago.

Toronto-Montreal Train Derailed, Hangs On Brink Of River

VAUDREUIL, Que.—(AP)—Three cars of a crack Toronto-Montreal passenger train with 800 passengers aboard teetered precariously over the edge of a St. Lawrence river bridge 35 miles west of Montreal today following derailment of a baggage car.

Passengers were badly shaken up, but no injuries were reported.

The train, operated jointly by Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railways, was speeding across the Dorion bridge at about 7:30 a. m. (EST) when the lead baggage car cracked a bearing.

The train ground to a stop with three cars projecting over the edge of the bridge and four others sunk up to seven feet in the frame work after plowing through railroad ties.

Among the passengers was the Montreal Canadiens hockey team, en route from Toronto, where they played the Maple Leafs last night.

Chicago Racket Rings Revealed

Inquiry Lands 5 Top Figures In Jail

CHICAGO — (AP)—U. S. Senate Crime committee hearings in Chicago have touched off a "full scale" investigation of the city's multimillion dollar policy gambling racket.

The probe, started after witnesses told of the far-flung policy operations, already has landed in jail five of the alleged top gambling figures. All testified during the committee's three days of public hearings which closed last night.

A sixth witness, Ralph O'Hara, a former official of a racing news service, was under federal indictment for refusing to answer pertinent questions. Federal marshals hauled him after the grand jury bills, containing 17 counts, were returned.

Although many witnesses summoned were not called, Sen. Ke-fauver (D-Tenn.), committee chairman, said testimony demonstrated that "interstate crime to a great degree centers in Chicago."

Among witnesses not called during the public hearings, which followed an earlier closed session here by the committee, were several former members of the old Capone gang.

Restrictions Force Nash To Lay Off 4500

DETROIT — (AP)—Nash-Kelvinator Corp., will lay off 4,500 employees by mid-January because of government restrictions and shortages of key materials.

This was announced last night by R. A. Devlieg, vice-president, who said the corporation was cutting back its projected manufacturing schedule 20 per cent.

Devlieg said readjustment is necessary to permit Nash-Kelvinator and its supplier to comply with orders of the national production authority.

Electrical appliance production in Detroit and Grand Rapids plants already has been affected and auto production at Kenosha and Milwaukee, Wis., and El Segundo, Calif., is expected to be affected shortly, Devlieg said.

Mrs. Rosenberg Wins Confirmation For Defense Chief Aide

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate today confirmed Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg as assistant Secretary of Defense by a voice vote.

Action came after the Senate Armed Services Committee twice had unanimously recommended such action. Testimony that she had Communist associations 15 years ago was rejected by the committee as false. She said it was a case of mistaken identity.

Mrs. Rosenberg, 49, is the first woman ever to serve in such a high post in the military department. She will act as a manpower and labor authority under Secretary of Defense Marshall, who personally asked her appointment.

Hattie Caraway, 72, Of Arkansas Dead

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway, 72, of Arkansas, first woman ever elected to the United States Senate, died today at White Hall sanitarium at Falls Church, Va.

She had been ill since Jan. 11. Mrs. Caraway was a member of the Federal Employees' compensation Appeals Board at the time of her death.

She was a senator for slightly more than 13 years during the administration of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Atomic Water Made Safe By Simple Device

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. — (AP) — Two young scientists concocted an "atomic cocktail" here a month or so ago and then set about trying to take the fire out of it.

From that start they have developed a simple device, costing $2,500, which offers hope of making water supplies fit for use after an atomic bomb attack.

The development was announced yesterday by Dr. K. Z. Morgan, director of the health physics division of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory. The laboratory is the Atomic Energy commission's chief research center here.

Credited with the development were A. H. Emmons and Robert A. Lauderdale.

Emmons described their procedure this way:

"We studied isotopes present after an atomic explosion and made an atomic cocktail of the same proportions. Then we concentrated on the isotopes that were known to slip through other types of decontamination units."

The result of their labor is a unit of two cylinders containing six layers of absorbents through which radio-active liquids pass.

Dr. Morgan said the device will "soak up" for use water which is thousands of times more radioactive than the maximum tolerance considered safe for human consumption.

Enemy Has 10-1 Losses In Korea

bert and Stan Swinton, in the beachhead, reported enemy inactivity on the Hungnam perimeter. Although they said they were certain that steady pounding by warplanes, field artillery and big naval guns had hurt the Reds badly.

Second Hardest Hit

Warships continued to hammer Communist troops concentrations north of the beachhead.

Correspondent Lamber reported the Communists had replied only with mortar attacks on the east flank.

The far east air forces reported continuing attacks on Communist forces throughout the U. S. Eighth Army area in the northwest.

A top officer at General MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo vigorously denied reports that Communists had used gas grenades against the Hungnam troops. The report, he said, was wholly unconfirmed and doubted at headquarters because the Chinese Communists had had no training in gas warfare and did not have gas masks.

General MacArthur's late Thursday war summary listed the 12,755 Allied casualties.

A breakdown listed the U. S. Second Army division as hardest hit with 4,131 casualties; next hardest hit was the U. S. First Marine division with 2,891.

Other losses: U. S. Seventh Infantry division, 2,097; U. S. First Cavalry division, 443; U. S. Third Infantry division, 650; U. S. 24th division, 146; U. S. 25th division, 1,606; other United Nations forces, 1,011.

MacArthur said Communist losses of 10 to one had noticeably slowed down the enemy operations.

MacArthur said the Allied withdrawal from the northwest front after the Sinanju battle "was not dictated by battle losses or the acceptance of defeat."

He said the Allied forces, four corps of 12 divisions, were outnumbered by nine Chinese corps of 27 divisions. Other huge Chinese Red forces were massed north of the Yalu river in Manchuria, he said.

"Under such conditions," MacArthur added, "the assumption of the defensive in a position of readiness and a tightening of frontages is an almost commonplace military maneuver."

Legion's Toy Drive To Start Dec. 26

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The American Legion announced today that its second annual drive to collect Christmas toys for children overseas will begin Dec. 26 throughout the nation.

The drive brought in 3,000,000 toys last year for European children. This year it will be enlarged to include the Philippine Islands and the children of veterans fighting in Korea.

Stalin Extolled On 71st Birthday

(By The Associated Press)

Today is Joseph Stalin's birthday—he's 71—and while his controlled press at home once again hailed him in extravagant prose, Communists in the ring of states around Russia pulled out all the stops attempting to outdo each other in praising him.

In Moscow, East Berlin, Prague, Sofia, Bucharest, Budapest and Warsaw, the Communist press chorused praise of Stalin in phrases like these:

"Greatest scientist of our time."

"Leader of the world peace camp."

"Defender of the worker."

"Great genius Stalin."

Arm To Teeth, Says Hoover; Warfare Abroad Is Folly

American boys and would end in the exhaustion of this Gibraltar of western civilization."

Mr. Hoover said western European nations should arm themselves with combat divisions of "huge numbers" before the United States lands "another man or another dollar on their shores."

His demand for a new foreign arms policy came one day after President Truman named Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as supreme commander of western European forces and said additional U. S. troops would be sent there as soon as possible.

No Apprehension

Mr. Hoover said his suggested foreign policy would make it possible for this country to carry on indefinitely, even if the Communists attacked its defense.

Meanwhile, he added, Americans could hope that other non-Communist peoples would rise in their own defense, and that Communism would break down of its own weakness.

Adding to his prepared text, Mr. Hoover said "I devoutly hope a maximum of cooperation can be established between the British Commonwealth and ourselves."

He urged that the United States free Japan and help her rearm; stiffen the defenses of Formosa and the Philippines; reduce non-military expenses, balance the budget and roll back inflation; aid other nations that show "spirit and strength" in defending themselves against Communism; and engage in no appeasement anywhere—"no more Tehrans and Yaltas."

Mr. Hoover proposed that the United Nations take these actions against Communist China: Declare it an aggressor, refuse it membership, demand that U. N. members cease supplying it with militarily useful goods; and adopt a resolution condemning the "infamous lies" about the United States.

The ex-President criticized the British for "flirting with appeasement of Communist China."

Foundry Worker, 21, Denies Nov. 3 Killing Near Benton Harbor

BENTON HARBOR, Mich.—Willie Asbury, 21-year-old foundry worker, has admitted he raped a young girl Tuesday night but at the same time has denied he killed Mrs. Dorothy Kelm Nov. 3 officers said.

Sheriff Edwin H. Kubath said Asbury, who denies "killing anyone," was charged with rape.

The sheriff quoted Asbury as admitting he raped an 18-year-old girl in a car after he told her he had killed "two or three" other women. The girl told the sheriff Asbury had threatened to "kill her" if she didn't submit.

Kubath said the alleged incident took place just a stone's throw from the spot where Mrs. Kelm's nearly nude body was found last month. Mrs. Kelm had been strangled and her body thrown into Hickory Creek.

Mystery Bullets Nick Two In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Two more Philadelphians have been felled by mystery bullets but police say they are not sure either ambush can be blamed on the sniper sought for seven previous shootings. George Haller, jr., 16, was nicked by an unknown assailant last night while he was walking on a street in the Juniata park section, some four miles from where Mrs. Claire Cohen, a young housewife, was slain Saturday night.

Earlier yesterday a 54-year-old man was shot in South Philadelphia by another bullet fired out of the dark by an unseen marksman. The victim was Richard C. Lavery, Republican division committeeman and job printer.

Civil Defense Plans Moving

Michigan Keeps Pace In National Setup

LANSING — (AP)—Civil defense directors of key cities in Michigan's out-state areas have the assurance that this state is keeping pace with the national civil defense program.

The men charged with protecting the home front met here yesterday with state police commissioner and civil defense head Donald S. Leonard.

Leonard said that organization work in Michigan is proceeding very satisfactorily and was given a head start last July when local civil defense directors were appointed at the request of the governor and a basic emergency plan was established.

"The job of complete organization is too big to be accomplished overnight," Leonard said, "and there are many questions still to be answered on the federal level. But the federal program is now moving along and as far as Michigan is concerned no state has surpassed us in what has been done so far."

Leonard urged that the cities enroll enrollment officers for civilian defense volunteers to speed up their recruitment now that the general program is being expanded.

Speedy Approval Given To Secret Fund For Defense

public works authorization, much of it for top secret purposes.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), veteran chairman of the appropriations committee, pushed the $20,000,000 emergency defense bill through the committee with wartime speed yesterday. He expected to repeat the performance on the Senate floor today.

The bill is $20,000,000 larger than similar legislation already approved by the House.

Largest boost was $1,834,119,000 for the stockpiling of strategic and critical materials such as rubber, tin, numerous metals and other materials and commodities in short supply during the last war.

The House voted $840,000,000 for the atomic energy commission while the Senate group raised this to $1,080,000,000.

Also added were multi-million dollar items to build 50 fast cargo ships instead of the 16 voted by the House, additional funds for the Tennessee Valley Authority, and additional aircraft research.

Coast Guard Craft Scans Lake Erie For Missing 80-Foot Tug

BUFFALO, N. Y. — (AP) — The U. S. coast guard mobilized all the power it could find today to press the search for the tug Sachem, missing in Lake Erie with 11 men aboard since Monday.

The entire eastern end of the lake was divided into sectors and assigned to search units.

Two coast guard icebreakers, the Tupper and the Acacia, headed the surface force, aircraft from Selfridge field, Mich., and the naval reserve base at Niagara Falls airport took part in the search from the air.

Civil air patrol units and a helicopter from the Erie county sheriff's department also joined the effort.

Searchers have abandoned looking for the 80-foot diesel craft itself. They have turned to a minute inspection of the lake in hopes of sighting wreckage.

Party Chiefs See Isolation Scrap

on one thing—that last night's broadcast proposals by the only living former president would echo in Congress for some time to come.

Bluntly calling the United Nations-U. S. efforts in Korea a defeat, Mr. Hoover warned against "another Korea" in Western Europe if this country feeds men and money there before the European countries organize their own defense.

Taft Agrees

Only two days before President Truman had pledged that more American forces soon would join the combined West European defense force now being set up under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

As Hoover spoke, Secretary of State Acheson was flying back from the Brussels conference which authorized the combined non-Communist force.

Many Republicans in Congress were quick to cheer Hoover's sharp dissent from the Truman-Acheson policy.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee told a reporter he agrees with "many of the general principles" Hoover stated.

Taft said some would term the speech isolationist but added that "Mr. Hoover presents very forcefully a point of view which certainly should have the immediate consideration of the Congress."

The Ohio Senator plans a similar speech of his own.

Kaiser-Frazer May Build Cargo Planes At Willow Run Plant

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Air Force and the Kaiser-Frazer Corp. are negotiating for the firm to build C-119 cargo planes at its huge Willow Run plant—but no contracts have been signed.

The Air Force made that announcement late yesterday after a Dayton, O., newspaper had reported contracts had already been signed.

The Air Force also denied a report that Kaiser-Frazer is negotiating to produce Boeing B-47 stratojets at a Marietta, Ga., plant. Kaiser-Frazer officials were quoted by the Air Force as also denying this report.

Detroit Women Lifers Paroled

Warden Praises Trio; All Going To Work

DETROIT — (AP)—Three women, who were serving life sentences for their part in the slaying of a nephew of a supreme court justice, are outside prison walls today.

The women—Jean Miller, Florence Jackson, and Loretta Jackson—were released from the Detroit House of Correction yesterday after their sentences had been commuted by Gov. G. Mennen Williams. They served 15 years.

Lured Man In Cab

They were sentenced in 1935 when Attorney Howard Carter Dickinson of New York nephew of the late U. S. Supreme Court Justice Charles Evans Hughes, was shot to death after the women lured him into a taxicab.

The cab driver, William Schwitzer, is serving life.

The Jackson sisters plan to open a tea room in their father's home. Jean soon will take a housekeeping job.

Each woman had a new wrist watch when released. They were gifts from the commissioners of the House of Correction.

And Warden A. B. (Pop) Gillies sent them home by car, an unusual procedure for discharged inmates.

He said, "they earned it. They put our dining room on a paying basis. And all through the years they contributed immeasurably to the morale of other prisoners."

One Now Grandmother

They will be on parole four years.

The women were described by the state at their trial as "party girls, seeking only a laugh and a good time."

They were accused of agreeing with Schwitzer to lure Dickinson into Schwitzer's taxicab so the driver could rob him.

Truman Owes Dignity and Leadership To Citizens

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—A double responsibility has suddenly fallen on the American people and the man who was elected to serve them as chief—a responsibility which demands some forbearance from both ends.

In the past Mr. Truman has occasionally behaved in a manner considerably lower than the angels. Dignity of office has not been his trademark, and the temper of his reign has tended more toward party politics than statesmanship. He has been often criticized, and often justly.

But it looks to me like we are all in the grease together today—you, me, and Mr. Truman, too. We are mired in a mess which says war—tomorrow, today, next week or next year. We have declared an emergency. This means to me that we expect attack, either violently or insidiously, as the past few months have demonstrated the efficacy of indirect assault.

This is a little bigger than Mr. Truman's feud with some of the press. It is a problem of more moment than the quality of daughter Margaret's voice, and the critical appraisal of same. It is bigger than a petty quarrel with Maverick politicians, bigger than the five-per-cent scandals. Bigger than any of the meanly bickering and cracker-barrel confabs that sometimes marked the Truman term.

An Average Man
In defense of Mr. Truman's recent exhibitions of bad taste and public foolishnesses, it must be said that Harry Truman is an average man, with a giant's problems on his mind and the fate of several nations on his back. He is a worried, harassed, beleaguered man, who has been tapped by destiny for a job that would try the talents of a flotilla of geniuses.

Prior to the elections which placed him in office for a full presidential term, I have seen tears in Mr. Truman's eyes, and have heard his voice crack and quaver when he described the enormity of the true little minor-leaguer from Missouri who was thrust into a Caesar's shoes.

Harry gained in arrogance as he pulled his party together, stood off the Dixiecrats and belabored the backs of the Republicans. But he has remained the essential average Joe—hot-tempered, immoderate in his likes and dislikes, a man of passionate family pride, and a stubborn defender of his personal friends, and a hard-rock politician, always.

Truce Is Needed

These are possibly admirable qualities in a civilian, in what we used to call "normal" times, but they suddenly became dangerous luxuries in a moment of world emergency. Mr. Truman asked for his second term. He nominated himself for a horrifying huge job, with awful demands on his time and patience. Among other decisions, Harry Truman has had to decide to unleash the atom once before. And may well be forced to make the same decision again.

So it seems to me that the American people and Mr. Truman must strike some sort of truce. In the enormity of the present Mr. Truman can no longer afford temperamental outbursts and petty, personal, political indulgences. He is our boy. We elected him. He is our responsibility for two more years—years which can decide the future of mankind.

We are his responsibility. Our resources and our lives are directly under his hand. He owes us dignity, and leadership, and abstinence from political deals and dodges. We have the right to demand that. We can and must demand that the man from Independence force himself to business in the administration of his job. I am pretty sure that the American people will stand solidly by Harry if Harry disciplines himself. Discipline, as any warrior can tell you, has to work both ways. Meantime, I sure hope he stays away from pen and paper except in the presence of responsible advisers.

On the basis of 1935-39 being 100, Canada's cost-of-living index was only 79.1 in 1933.

T-B Association To Meet In June

43rd Annual Meeting To Be In Marquette

ISHPEMING—The Michigan Tuberculosis association will hold its 43rd annual meeting at the Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette in June of 1951, according to Walter F. Gries, of Ishpeming, vice-president of the tuberculosis Christmas Seal agency.

Although there have been special Northern Peninsula tuberculosis meetings, this is the first time in the history of the 43-year-old organization that the state-wide annual meeting has been scheduled for the north.

Mr. Gries said physicians, editors, legislators, public health and welfare workers, members of tuberculosis committees and associations and other allied groups will be invited to attend the meeting. He said the "Michigan Tuberculosis Association is also particularly anxious to have a large public representation at the conference."

As a first-hand opportunity to learn of new developments and problems in the tuberculosis war, the meetings usually draw from 250 to 400 delegates. Local, state and national authorities in the public health field will be selected to speak.

Mr. Gries, who in private life is welfare director for Cleveland Cliffs Mining company here, pointed out that while tuberculosis has been reduced by 75 per cent in Michigan since the turn of the century, the disease still claims a toll of 1,400 lives each year. "The tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale, now over the half-way mark throughout the state, is the sole financial support for Michigan's voluntary effort to bring tuberculosis under control," he said.

Citrus Fruits Belong
On Christmas Tables

FESTIVE GRAPEFRUIT . . . Holiday table treat

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Largest of our fruit crop, and at its peak in quality right now, citrus fruit can be used to advantage on holiday tables and can also be made into attractive gifts. Grapefruit halves always appeal to me as a starter for a festive dinner because they're easy to prepare and are a refreshing tangy beginning for a big meal. But do give the grapefruit halves a Christmas touch:

Festive Grapefruit Halves

Cut grapefruit in half. Cut around each section, loosening fruit from membrane. Do not cut around entire outer edge of fruit. Cut slice of cranberry jelly with small sharp knife into small Christmas tree; place in center of grapefruit half and garnish with silver balls. Cut thin slice of citron into tiny leaves. Arrange with cinnamon candies around center of another grapefruit half to resemble a Christmas wreath.

For a delightful snack, or for dessert when some of the family and guests eschew the heavier puddings and pies, serve tangerines this way.

Tangerine Poinsettias

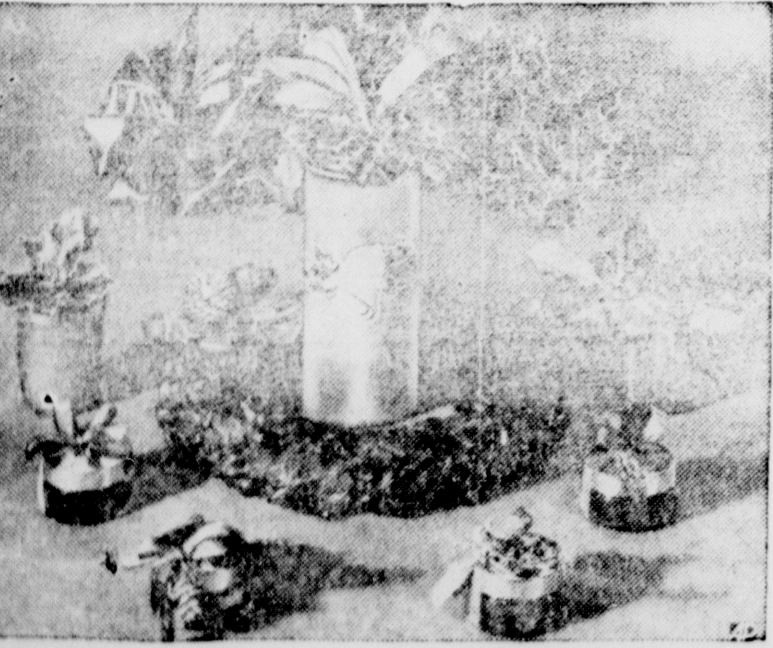

Cut tangerine peel into six sections; peel down one-half of the way but do not remove. Cut sections of peel with scissors into fine slivers. Spread sections apart sunburst-fashion; fill centers with semi-sweet chocolate or salted nuts.

Little jars of jelly make excellent gifts for friends who happen by during the holidays. Here is a delightful one to tuck under the Christmas tree:

Tangerine Jelly

Ingredients: 3 cups canned sweetened tangerine juice, 1 box powdered fruit pectin, 3½ cups sugar.

Method: Put tangerine juice in large saucepan. Place over high heat, add fruit pectin, and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim, pour quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once. Makes about 7 six-ounce glasses.

TANGERINE JELLY . . . That little Christmas gift.

Today's Homemaker Finds Cleaning Easy
With Latest-Type Household Equipment

New equipment designed to take the drudgery out of housework includes this self-wringing sponge mop (left) and floor polisher with built-in headlight (center). Vacuum cleaner (right) rolls, with no tugging, on dolly which holds attachments handy for use. New rug nozzle combines revolving brush action with vacuum suction.

By ANNE LARSEN
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—(NEA)— Annual fall housecleaning, which used to leave a homemaker as limp and wrung-out-looking as a rag mop, is rapidly becoming a thing of the past.

If modern equipment — makers have their way, today's housewife can breeze through her chores on a daily or week-to-week basis.

Vacuum cleaners, long highly regarded for efficiency in whisking away dirt, have become increasingly easy to use. One company investigating the reasons women tend to leave their cleaners in the closet except for special occasions, has done much to make their model a cleaning tool for everyday use.

Innovations include a rack, designed for attaching to the inside of a closet door, which holds hose and wands ready assembled for instant use. The time usually devoted to fitting various sections together is thereby saved. Paint and moth sprayers are also stored in this rack.

More frequently used cleaning attachments — floor and dusting brushes, upholstery and crevice tools — are kept handy upon an aluminum dolly which also supports the lightweight cleaner offered by this company. A gentle pull upon the hose propels the rubbercasted dolly wherever it is needed.

A new rug nozzle offered by the same company combines vacuum suction with revolving brush action. The brush, which is self-cleaning and self-adjusting, according to the manufacturer, adapts its own height to the thickness of the rug.

The nozzle resembles a carpet sweeper, and may be used similarly, without attachments to the vacuum, for quick clean-ups. Its special advantages include a low-slung design, for reaching under close-to-the-floor furniture, and light weight, which is claimed to be about half that of the average carpet sweeper. It is automatically selfemptied since litter and dust are drawn into the cleaner when the vacuum attachment is used.

Added features include a disposable dust bag, which need be replaced only after about two months of normal use, and a dust filter made of gay plaid fabric.

To ease the task of keeping floors sleek and shining, a well-known firm presents this fall a lightweight floor polisher with built-in headlight for dark corners.

In addition to brushes, it offers two sets of buffing pads—one of felt and one of lamb's wool. A fingertip switch insures instant starting and stopping of the ventilated motor.

The homemaker can choose this year from a variety of mops to suit her own individual needs. A sponge mop with a five-year guarantee has a chromium self-wringing attachment.

The cellulose head, which is set at an angle to facilitate reaching into out-of-the-way corners, may be used for drying-up as well as cleaning. The sponge is capable of absorbing up to 20 times its weight in water, according to its makers.

For dusting floors there is a mop with a feather-weight aluminum handle which is bent at an angle to make stooping and furniture moving unnecessary. The extra large, four-ply yarn head lies flat upon the floor; sneaks with ease beneath the lowest-slung furniture.

When you serve a canned vegetable in a cream sauce be sure to use the vegetable liquid from the can for part the milk in the sauce.

Grace Is a Woman's Ace

Prizing her gracefulness as a prime beauty asset, this young woman walks her best at all times, aided by shoes that are suitable and sensible as well as pretty. Sturdy heels of walking shoes (right) help balance weight of grocery bag. Low-heeled party pumps (upper left) enhance feet which will dance in comfort all evening. Low-cut shells (lower left), worn for social afternoon, are given extra support by dainty satin instep straps. (Nat'l Shoe Institute)

By ALICIA HART

Grace is a hidden ace possessed by every woman, no matter how sparing nature may have been in dealing out to her the other attributes of beauty.

Proud posture and fluid movement, which are as often gifts of endeavor as of birth, envelop in loveliness any woman who possesses them.

If you wish to achieve the beauty that grace bestows, learn a few fundamental rules of walking, and make constant use of them.

Remember, first of all, to hold your head proudly. Never walk with your chin tucked upon your chest and your eyes fixed upon the ground.

Correctly chosen shoes will aid you in your campaign for grace. Too-high heels or inadequately supported ankles are often responsible for feminine awkward-ness.

Aching feet, encased in inappropriate or run-down shoes, account for too much hobbling. Make sure your feet are sensibly, as well as prettily, shod.

Experts recommend walking, not the oft-praised straight line, but two parallel lines an inch to two inches apart. Placement of your feet will depend to a great extent upon the size of your thighs and knees.

A large woman will usually find she has better balance if her steps are spaced a bit apart.

Make certain your toes point straight ahead. No woman can look graceful when clumping along with a pigeon-toed or duck-footed gait.

Avoid mincing, too. This results when the weight of your body is first put upon the ball of your foot and then shifted to your heel.

It's better to reverse this motion, rocking your weight from your heel along the lower outer margin of your arch and onto the ball of your foot. This presents a solid, honest-looking walk.

Other taboos include the shifting of your thigh bones in your hip sockets, which produces swaying and jiggling; and the jerking of your knees, which gives an uneven gait.

When you are carrying bundles or packages, try to balance the excess weight so that your body will not be thrown into a sideward list or your shoulders hunched forward.

It's a good idea to avoid carrying extra-heavy bundles, from a standpoint of both fatigue and grace. A two-wheeled shopping cart will enable you to push your groceries home, walking as regularly in your everyday cottons as you do in your dress-up satins.

RAPID RIVER—The services of the Midnight Mass at St. Charles church in Rapid River will begin at 11:40 Christmas Eve with a mixed choir of 28 voices singing the traditional Christmas carols. Miss Mary Cavill will be soloist of the caroling.

The mass this year is "Mass of the Shepherds" by Pietro A. Yon, with the exception of the Benedictus which is taken from the "Mass of Notre Dame." The "Mass of the Shepherds" is very beautiful because of the reed and French horn effects of the organ which give it a pastoral effect.

The offertory will be "Hodie Christus Natus Est" by C. Marcetteau. The duet part will be sung by Miss Marion Lind and Dale Teinert with the entire choir joining in the chorus.

CHRISTMAS TREE FARM

Roy Halvorson of Duluth, Minn., has built up an unusual business, marketing table-top Christmas trees all over the Western Hemisphere. From the original cutting in the northern wilderness of Minnesota and Canada until the finished tree is in the home, each step of the operation is a realization of a dream Halvorson had some 30 years ago and has brought to reality. He expects to sell a million and a half trees this year. Halvorson started out by cutting the trees himself. He processed the first ones in the Halvorson family bathtub. Now he employs about 200 persons on a year-round basis. Nearly every man in Big Falls, Minn., a community of 500 in the northern part of the state where he maintains his forest headquarters, earns his living by cutting trees for Halvorson. These pictures show how the trees are handled from their growth in the muskeg swamps of the far north to the time they are placed in cartons ready to ship for the holiday.

CUTTING AREA. A road building crew follows surveyors into a cutting area. Crew members cut the trees so that they fall in the road. This creates a corduroy road bed which will support heavy caterpillar tractors.

WOODSMAN saws tree. He averages 200 to 250 trees per day.

BUNDLED trees are loaded onto trucks.

TRACTORS haul full-laden sleds out of the forest. The trips are made twice a day so the trees get to the plant fresh.

THE INCOMING TREES are trimmed to a standard size—36 inches in height.

TREES are placed in paint machine, colored rich green, white or silver.

TREE is fitted with metal stand, filled with liquid preservative.

TABLE-TOP TREE fascinates Lucas children, Floria, 11, and Kenneth, 8.

Complete Erection Of REA Radio Tower

Erection of the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative association's two-way radio tower has been completed, it is announced by Wynand Nieuwenkamp, manager of the cooperative.

The tower was erected by the Tower Construction company of Sioux City, Iowa, on the bluff due west from the Cooperative's headquarters building. The tower was purchased from the Wind-charger corporation of Sioux City. The land upon which the tower was erected was purchased from M. J. Packer, and the city of Gladstone extended the electric line to the tower.

The cooperative installed a telephone line underneath the power line to connect the radio transmitter with the equipment at the office.

The transmitter is housed in a small concrete block building, 10x12 feet in dimension. The tower is equipped with a beacon and other lighting which is in accordance with the Civil Aeronautics requirements. The height of the tower from the ground is 200 feet, and with the additional elevation that the bluff provides, the radio engineers in charge of the design, feel that the cooperative's two-way radio facilities should have a range of approximately 100 miles.

For the past year, because of the delay in proof of title on the land upon which the radio building and tower is erected, the Cooperative has been operating with a temporary tower on the grounds of the Cooperative's headquarters building. With this temporary arrangement, it was possible to cover an area of 30 to 40 miles depending upon terrain.

Now that the new facility is completely installed, a better two-way radio communication is possible throughout the cooperative's system which reaches as far south as Stephenson and Cedar River in Menominee county, reaches as far north as Big Bay, north of the City of Marquette in Marquette county, reaches as far west as the Wisconsin line along the Menominee River, and reaches as far east as Garden Corners in Garden Township in Delta county.

This new equipment will substantially improve the electric service to the members-consumers of the electric association, states Manager Nieuwenkamp, because with it, regardless of where the trucks are, the office will be in contact with them through this radio equipment.

Mail Volume Sets Record

Post Office Staff
Having Busy Week

Fourteen regular employees of the Manistique post office, assisted by six substitute workers are handling a record volume of incoming mail, it is reported by Frank Gierke, sr., postmaster. The Christmas mailing rush commenced on Dec. 11 when several of the substitute mail handlers were employed, and probably reached its peak Wednesday, the postmaster said. On Monday and Tuesday a total of 40,000 pieces of first class mail was put through the mailing machine, and from Dec. 11 to Dec. 10, 816 sacks of incoming mail has been processed through the post office. Yesterday afternoon Soo Line train No. 8, from the west, brought in 114 sacks of mail, and at 3:15 the star route truck from Trout Lake brought in 30 more. The Soo Line's evening train from the east was expected to bring in another load of mail sacks, Gierke said. Window and lobby service will be maintained at the post office Saturday afternoon until 6 o'clock, but no money order service will be available in the afternoon. The lobby also will be open Sunday from 8 a. m. to 1 p. m., but the post office will be closed all day Christmas. All incoming Christmas gift packages received at the post office on Sunday and Monday will be delivered, the postmaster said.

A Christmas Carol

Scrooge bounded out of bed to the window. "What's today, my fine fellow?" he shouted to a boy in the street. "Today?" replied the boy. "Why, it's Christmas Day!"

Scrooge ordered the biggest turkey in history sent round to Bob Cratchit's House.

Meeting the two philanthropists, whom he had only yesterday pushed out of his office, Scrooge gave them a donation to charity that made their heads swim.

Fighting Hawks Surprise Portage Before Losing Thriller By 7-6

Escanaba Hawks made their home debut in "fast hockey" at the fairgrounds rink last night in auspicious style.

They played the powerful Portage Lake Pioneers — with the "Battling Buckovichs" — to a standstill before being nipped in the last period with less than four minutes to play on a solo dash by Jack Ruelle, Pioneer spare wing. The score was 7 to 6.

A roaring crowd of delighted hockey fans watched as the highly rated Portage Lake crew was given the battle of its life by an Escanaba team that wasn't expected to "cut much ice" (if a poor pun be permitted) in the Northern Wisconsin — Michigan Hockey league this year.

When the game was over, the Buckovich crew, led by "Terrible Tony" Buckovich, a rip-roaring, hot-tempered puckster who once played for the Detroit Red Wings, was glad to settle for a one point victory.

Innocent Mayhem

It was a ding-dong battle replete with fights, a little blood, terrific body checking, sensational goal tending, tripping, knocking, boarding and general all around "innocent" mayhem.

The addition of Ted and Marcus Olson, two speedsters who have moved here from Marquette, to the Hawks was a shot in the arm for the locals. Ted got two goals and Marcus one assist in addition to making things interesting for the Copper Country boys by their all around play.

Ably abetted by the LaLonde brothers of the Soo and Little Russ Hiltunen, Escanaba Bears' pitcher of fast summer, the Hawks kept things going at a speedy tempo. The game was tied 2-2 at the end of the first period and 3-3 at the end of the second.

Hawk Hopes Dashed

Scoring stepped up in the last frame and, with less than half the period to go, Hiltunen banged in a marker on an assist from Charles LaLonde that put the Hawks in the lead, 6-5.

But two minutes later, Joe and Tony Buckovich teamed up on a scoring burst, Joe getting the net-bender at 13:30 on an assist from Tony to tie the score.

Ruelle's unassisted goal that won the game came at 16:32, dashing Escanaba's hope of getting at least a tie.

The game started out like a rout for Portage as Tony Buckovich banged in the first goal at 2:40 of the opening period on a pass from Bill Lindstrom and Mike Buckovich soloed at 5:05. But the Hawks came back on two unassisted swishers, the first by Ted Olson at 10:03 and the second, a long, low whistler by Jim Ward, Hawk co-coach who was pressed into service to compensate for a shortage of defense talent.

"Bucks" in Penalty Box

Both Hawk scores came with Portage playing one man short, Tony Buckovich grabbing the penalty box when Olson scored and his brother Mike warning the frigid seat when Ward caged his shot.

The Hawks and the Pioneers traded single goals in the second period, Mike getting one unassisted at 4:20 and Ted Olson scoring his second at 17:10 with assists from Gordon Haga and Marcus Olson.

Fred LaLonde, speedy front liner from the Soo, started things off for Escanaba in the final period by lighting the bulb on a solo at 1:02. Tony Buchovich tied it at 5 minutes on an assist by brother Joe and Clem Stone, Portage spare, put his team ahead again at 8:02 without help.

Artwick Shines

Fred LaLonde brought the Hawks back in the game with his second unassisted goal of the period at 8:02. It was at this juncture that Russ Hiltunen put Escanaba ahead for the last time before Joe Buckovich and Jack Ruelle racked up the tying and winning scores.

Ed O'Leary of Gladstone and Jim Ward gave the Pioneers a rough time on defense with their rugged body checking and Ben Artwick, Hawk goalie from Stambaugh, played a whale of a game in the nets.

Hockey Sidelights

Hockey cuff notes: The NWM brand of hockey got off to a classy start in Escanaba in Portage Lake's 7-6 win over the new Hawks last night. The Bukovich tribe had its eyes opened by the spirit, fight and ability of the rejuvenated Hawks. Not a dull moment!

Rough body checks and quick rushes toward the goal were the order of the night. Those tactics undoubtedly pay off on Escanaba's small rink.

The Hawks play 12 out-of-town games on 190x80 rinks, the Calumet Armory, Dee Stadium at Houghton (formerly the Houghton Amphitheatre), Marquette, Palstra and Eagle River Arena. And they plan a couple of practice sessions on big ice so they can hold their own in these out-of-town games.

Tony and Mike Bukovich are as smooth stick handlers as you'd hope to see anywhere. When they come down on you, Hawk defensemen say, it looks like they're going both directions at once. Plenty of hard checking highlighted the game all the way.

It never fails to happen — bugs in the public address system! Failure of the P.A. forced postponement of the pre-game clinic and, of all the Hawks, only big Ed O'Leary got himself introduced. The system knicked out right after O'Leary was introduced. Wonder if there's any connection. The clinic will be held prior to the next home game, Marquette here Wednesday, Dec. 27.

Fans shouldn't miss that one. This new Escanaba hockey team looks like it means business. Ted and Mark Olson made a very successful Escanaba debut, and the LaLonde brothers, Chuck and Fred, more than held their own. Little Chuck is a scrappy.

And both are heavy players. They left last night to spend Christmas with their parents, but they'll be back Tuesday. No doubt about that. They won themselves a home here last night. Orchids aside to Ben Artwick for a sparkling net performance. And to all the Escanabans and Gladstone players who are working hard to develop the new Hawk team into a potent force in NWM competition.

St. Paul Pro Cage Team Tosses Sponge

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (P) — President Dick Headley of the St. Paul Lights of the National Professional basketball league announced today that his team is discontinuing operations.

Headley said in the current season the team has lost $40,000 and drew only 1,000 fans for last night's game with Waterloo, Ia.

CLEVELAND — (P) — The Cleveland Browns are within one victory of making veteran national football league members eat their sneers.

The four years they were champs of the now defunct All-America football conference the Browns wanted to play the NFL titleholder in a sort of professional football world series.

Lose to Rapid River

Coach George LeBrasseur's Bark River Broncos still are seeking their first victory of the year. They suffered their sixth loss in a row last night at Rapid River, losing a tough one, 49 to 39.

Last night's game was nip and tuck, with not more than three points difference between the two teams in any quarter except the second when Dennis Thomas, Rapid River ace, hit for shots in a row from the corner to give Rapid River a six point margin.

Bill Goodman topped Rapid River with 16 points to 14 for Thomas. Jack Poisson led Bark River with 12. Joe LaVigne, Bark River's sophomore center, dumped in 10 points although he played only about half the game. He left the game on fouls.

Bark River reserves won the preliminary, 38 to 32.

Browns 'High' For Title Battle

CLEVELAND tonight. With them the Rams bring the league's high-scoring record for this year.

There are plenty of indications the Browns will remain "up" for this one. They were as high as a champagne's eyebrows last week when they won the conference title from the New York Giants, who had beaten them twice before.

Len Ford, right end, is back in uniform and wants to play although he is just partly recovered from a broken jaw and plastic surgery on his face. He was injured Oct. 15 when he was belted by the Chicago Cardinals' Pat Harder. And he still needs some dental work. His physician said he could play with a special mask, which is being made.

what now amounts to the world championship.

Beating the Los Angeles Rams would mean a lot to Coach Paul Brown and his club. It would repay the older league members' snubs which went down hard here. And it would give Brown a grand-stand record, unique among grid coaches.

He produced high school teams at Massillon O., which were called the best in the nation and which certainly dominated the tough Buckeye competition. Later he coached a national collegiate champion at Ohio State. If he tops that with in undisputed pro champ, Brown would just about run out of things to win.

The last hurdle is the Los Angeles club that wings into

Cleveland tonight. With them the Rams bring the league's high-scoring record for this year.

Introducing

Pete Kutches needs little introduction to St. Joseph fans. He's a natural, relaxed athlete who seems to do everything with ease. This is the third year at guard for this 16-year-old junior, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kutches, 1697 Stephenson avenue. He is five-foot nine-inches tall, weight 150 pounds. After he dumped in 37 points against Gladstone, Coach Eldon Keil called him one of the three best high school guards he had ever seen. He plays football and baseball like he does basketball. He wears uniform No. 33.

Ex-Gopher Coach May Go To USC

LOS ANGELES — (P) — The rumor factory today cooked up a neat exchange of departed coaches between the universities of Minnesota and Southern California.

Bernie Bierman, who stepped down at Minnesota this fall, said he would be interested, if there's an offer, in the job at USC from which Jeff Cravath resigned yesterday under alumni pressure.

One published report here is that Cravath is a hot prospect for Bierman's job at Minnesota, on the strength of his friendship with Minnesota Athletic Director Ike Campbell.

Bierman expressed interest in the Trojan job at San Francisco where he is a coach for the East-West Shrine game Dec. 30.

Cravath says he doesn't have immediate plans for his future. A day after Cravath bowed out, the list of possibilities for consideration of Trojan Athletic Director Willis O. Hunter is getting longer with each edition of the sports pages.

The job, with a major football institution, carries an attractive salary. Cravath will be paid nearly $30,000 for the two years remaining in his contract.

His nine-year regime, with a record of 4 wins, 28 losses and eight ties, ended when he resigned in the wake of Troy's most disastrous season. The team won two, tied two and lost five. The 9-7 victory over Notre Dame, traditional foe, wasn't enough to save Cravath's scalp.

Powers Whips Hermansville

POWERS — Taking an early lead and staying off a last quarter Hermansville rally, Powers-Spalding high school cagers defeated their arch rivals, 54-50, in an exciting game here last night.

Hermansville ended the game with only four players on the floor, five boys going out on fouls each. Powers lost one on fouls.

Ernest Della Costa paced the Powers attack with 21 points while Melvin Poquette hit 15 for Hermansville.

Powers reserves won, 32-20, and Hermansville graders were victors, 22-19, in preliminaries.

Powers will play at Felch Friday night.

Michigan Faces Canuck Pucksters

ANN ARBOR — (P) — Michigan's first hockey test against Canadian opposition this season comes tonight in the first of a two-game hockey meeting with Western Ontario university.

The Wolverines have conquered Princeton twice and Detroit Auto club, of the International league once in three high-scoring games to date.

Despite Michigan's goal-happy attack, good for 29 goals in the three games, the Wolverines are giving for tougher opposition in the Canadian club they edged 5-4 last year.

Spilling The Dope

Newberry high school (remember?) was sought by Menominee as a football opponent next fall. . . but Coach Morley Fraser told Coach Ken Radick his team could not take on Menominee at the early September date offered. . . he offered to play Oct. 27 but that is the date of the Marinette game. . . so Newberry signed Stephenson for that date, instead.

Pete VanLaanen of Iron Mountain and Charles Atkocunis of Stephenson have received varsity football letters at Western Michigan college. . . Pat Fitzgerald and Jim Sutton of Sault Ste. Marie were awarded freshman football numerals.

There will be a high school basketball game in Escanaba this week even though Escanaba and St. Joseph aren't playing. . . Bark River-Harris will be host to Baraga of Marquette at the St. Joseph gym Friday night. . . Bark River's gym is small and few teams like to play there so the Broncos play most of their games away from home.

Incidentally, were you among the puzzled fans who wondered about the lack of operating scoreboards at the Escanaba-Ishpeming game last week? . . . George Ruwlich gives the answer. . . the boards were not working well last year so were shipped to the factory to be fixed. . . they were returned in October and the carton was set aside until early last week. . . came time to install the boards and the important governing device was missing. . . a hurry-up call to the factory and the device was shipped immediately. . . but it got held up in the rail strike in Chicago. . . hence the guessing contest.

Ben Pederson of Marquette is on the University of Michigan Rose bowl team. . . he is 13 years old, a sophomore tackle standing 6-feet, 3-inches tall and weighing 215 pounds.

Did you know that it costs about 50 cents for friction tape alone each to put hockey sticks in proper shape? And the sticks themselves cost from $5 up.

And did you know that the Chicago Bears have an intricate bonus system? . . . for instance, the guy who makes a tackle behind the line of scrimmage gets $10. . . and same for the guy who stops the ball carrier on kickoffs and punts. . . same, too, for blocks, touchdowns, pass catches and other accomplishments. . . no wonder the Bears win ball games.

Oosterbaan Irks Coast Writers

PASADENA, Calif. — (P) — Michigan's Big Ten football champions headed briskly into their second day of practice under California sun today and some of the Wolverines privately hoped it wouldn't be any more strenuous than their first day.

They loosened up, and then scrimmaged. The sound got off the train at Pasadena yesterday and almost before the echoes of a colorful welcoming committee had died away in the Arroyo Seco bounding the famed Rose bowl, the lads were already down to the business of drilling for their New Year's day game with California.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan let back long enough for lunch, then back to Brookside Park, which adjoins the big bowl itself, they went — and remained until darkness closed in.

"Just like the first day of practice in the fall, only longer," sighed one Wolverine as he came back to their quarters in the Huntington hotel.

Oosterbaan indicated there might be more "banging of heads" in a double drill scheduled today.

Buddy Parker To Coach Lions

DETROIT — (P) — Raymond (Buddy) Parker helped Detroit win its only professional football title as a player 15 years ago and he's ready to try again — as head coach this time.

Parker, promoted from backfield coach to head coach of the Lions yesterday, said at Kemp, Tex., that he feels "the players we have will make us very much championship contenders next season."

About 24 hours after Alvin (Bo) McMillin resigned, Parker agreed to accept a one-year contract in a telephone conversation with Lions President Edwin Anderson.

The Lions also signed two Detroit assistant coaches to new one-year contracts as assistants for Parker. They are end coach George Wilson and line coach Aldeo Forte.

W. Nicholas Kerbaw, publicity director and assistant to former general manager McMillin, took over the business manager's post in the new setup.

Anderson said there will be no general manager for "the time being."

A usually reliable source said McMillin, who had two years left on his contract when he resigned, will get the $60,000 due him.

CHICAGO — Big Ten basketball teams had all the best of it in three intersectional matches last night.

Purdue beat Pennsylvania 73-64, Northwestern took Rice, 70-61, and Illinois swamped Washington State 71-48.

The Purdue-Penn game was something of a surprise. The Boilermakers had dropped three straight; the Quakers were undefeated.

The contest went according to form in the first few minutes, with the Quakers taking an early 19-10 lead. But Purdue, sparked by Neil Schmidt, gradually pulled up and at the half was ahead 47-42.

A brief Penn outburst at the start of the second period faded and thereafter Purdue had little trouble staying ahead.

Northwestern had a hard time with Rice at Houston until the last 10 minutes. Then the Wildcats putted ahead and coasted in Northwestern's Ray Ragsdale topped scoring with 22 points.

Illinois didn't cinch its victory at Champaign until the last half, either. The Illini led only 23-23 at the intermission, the result of a lousy play that lowered shooting averages and piled up fouls.

But the Washburn State offense flared in the last half and Illinois began to click. The Illini led by 10 minutes. Then the Wildcats putted ahead and coasted in Northwestern's Ray Ragsdale topped scoring with 22 points.

Northwestern hosts Penn Friday night, Illinois hosts Penn Friday and Purdue plays Notre Dame in the Butler tournament the same night. Indiana plays Butler in the more practice sessions, and even fewer days, before going into the postseason game.

West coast observers were impressed with the passing sureness of Chuck Ortmann, but there were mixed emotions about the line smacking of Don Dufek, the 185-pound straight ahead fullback. Dufek looked good, but it seems there was a 180-plus defensive man on the right side of the line who was impersonating California's crack Bob Minahan.

Oosterbaan, incidentally, didn't endeavor himself to west coast football writers. He said they would be admitted only to morning work of which there will be only a few. Writers with the team from the midwest, however, can attend both morning and afternoon workouts.

In nearby San Bernardino, Coach Lynn O. Waldorf, himself a former Big Ten coach with Northwestern, kept the big California squad just as busy. The Bear's workout under continued warm sunshine lasted more than three hours.

Two Negro freshmen at Cal are giving the Bears an idea of how Michigan stars perform. Sammy Williams, Los Angeles, T-quarterback for the Cal Frosh, is impersonating Ortmann. Charles Davis, San Diego, frosh halfback, gives a rough, tough impression of the Wolverines' ace halfback, Leo Koecksi, in dummy scrimmages.

Big Chicago Wheels Take $60,000,000 Each Year In Bets

CHICAGO — (AP)—Operations of Chicago's biggest policy wheels, which each year take an estimated $60,000,000 in bets ranging upward from a dime, were told to the U. S. Senate Crime committee.

The huge income and big profits, from the wheels — numbers racket — were disclosed as committee investigators questioned two of the so-called policy kings of the south side Negro district.

Two Locked Up

Both men—Edward P. Jones, 53, and Theodore Roe—were seized by state's attorney's police after their testimony, which came near the end of the public hearing.

State's Attorney John S. Boyle early today ordered the two locked up pending filing of gambling charges. He said he planned to present the case to the grand jury in January.

Jones and Roe are partners in the Maine-Idaho-Ohio wheel, one of the city's biggest. There are six or seven wheels of comparable size and a dozen or so smaller ones, Roe told the committee. He said his wheel takes in about $24,000 on two drawings a day, a total of $8,760,000 a year.

Kidnaped For Ransom

Jones said he is a one-fifth partner in the wheel, "participating in the profits." His profits in 1948, he said, were $200,000. Other partners are his mother, a brother, Roe and Cliff Davis. Jones, a former railroad porter who now operates an automobile agency in Mexico City, told how he and his two brothers started a policy wheel some 20 years ago.

Jones also told of being kidnaped in 1946 and released after payment of $100,000. Later he went to Mexico City where he has lived since.

Roe, under questioning of committee investigators, described the south side policy racket, with names and places and told in detail the operations of the wheels.

He estimated that 60 per cent of the residents of the Negro wards play policy. He said there is no limit on the amount of an individual bet but that the average bet is 25 cents, with more dime bets than anything else.

From Nickel Up

Roe said his wheel employed 74 persons—cashiers, checkers and pick-up men. Some go from house to house selling numbers. There are stations where bets are placed—similar to handbooks for race horse betting.

The customer picks three numbers from 1 to 78 and bets anything from a nickel up. Not all wheels operate alike. Some have a six-number row that pays long odds and five numbers pay still larger odds. The numbers are placed in the wheel for drawings and 12 numbers are drawn from the 78. Customers who have their three numbers among the 12 drawn are winners.

Production Of Steel Sets New Record Of 97 Million Tons

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Steel production in 1950 soared to an all-time record of about 97,000,000 tons of ingots and castings, breaking the previous top set in the war year of 1944 by 10,000,000 tons.

The 1950 figure is an estimate by the American Iron and Steel Institute. It compares with 89,642,000 tons in 1944 and 77,978,000 tons in 1949.

The 1950 output leaves the peace-time record of 83,640,000 tons, set in 1948, far behind.
